"I majored in Criminal Justice while receiving a double minor in both Spanish and Psychology. After Graduation, I will be attending graduate school here at IU and receiving my Master's in Information Systems through Kelley. I want to give a shout out to my family, especially my mom, for sacrificing so much to send me to an amazing school and making sure I had everything I needed to succeed. In the department, Professor Bill Head drew me in freshman year with his humor and passion for Criminal Justice. Professor Marla Sandys stimulated my interest in applying statistical data and framing it into something applicable in the real world. Professor Kip Schlegel helped me see the world through a different lens through the study abroad program he took our class on the summer in 2019. I am forever grateful for all my professors, but these three will forever have a special place in my heart.
